Cancellation notice and form

Your right to cancel

This notice applies where you have a statutory right to cancel an off-premises contract. Nothing in this notice reduces any longer or additional right provided by law.

You have the right to cancel where the Consumer Contracts (Information, Cancellation and Additional Charges) Regulations 2013 give you that right, without giving any reason. The applicable period depends on the nature and performance of the contract, including the supply of goods. Love to Save Energy will not treat this notice as shortening any statutory period.

How to cancel

Tell us your decision by a clear statement, for example a letter or email. You may use the form below, but it is not obligatory.
